Working to Protect The Ojai Valley's Future - Today

Spring 2000

Thank You Ojai!

Campaign To Preserve Ojai Meadows Is A Success

In less than three months, local residents exceeded the $525,000 necessary to acquire, preserve and protect, the 32-acre parcel located between Nordhoff High School and the St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church. "The overwhelming community support for this project was beyond our greatest expectations," exclaimed John Broesamle, OVLC Board President.

Local donors responded enthusiastically by helping the Conservancy beat both the campaign goal and the December 31st deadline. These additional funds will be used to help with the long term care for Ojai Valley open spaces like the Ojai Meadows Preserve.

The 32-acre Preserve is now open to the public and can be accessed from the Maricopa Highway. During the coming years, the Conservancy hopes to restore the wetlands and oak woodlands habitats to provide a site for outdoor education and better habitat for wildlife. See pages 5 and 6 for more information about the Ojai Meadows Preserve.

Cluff's Gift Helps Acquire Key Downtown Parcel

The holiday season brought another 'open space present' for the Ojai Valley. A generous $200,000 gift from Sheila and Don Cluff enabled the Conservancy to lead the acquisition effort of a half-acre site on the corner of Ojai Avenue, El Paseo and Rincon Road. The Cluff donation is the largest individual gift ever received by the Land Conservancy. The acquisition was finalized on December 28th, thanks to other outstanding contributions by the Ojai Civic Association and the City of Ojai Redevelopment Agency.

The former gas station property, which has commanding views of Topa Topa Mountain and the surrounding Los Padres National Forest, will be developed into a community park which reflects the character of Ojai. The design phase for the project will occur during the first six months of the year with input from the community. Once the plan is completed, OVLC will help raise the funds necessary to develop and maintain the park site. "Years from now, when people have forgotten the past history of this site, we want the park to stand on its own as a positive reflection of the Ojai Community spirit," says Jim Engel, OVLC Executive Director.

The Redevelopment Agency has taken temporary ownership of the property to enable final clean-up of the site from past contamination and the elimination of potential liability. The past contamination which occurred in the ground water table below the site is not expected to have any impact on the development of the site as a community park.

A Message From Our President

We Did It!

Between October 10 and December 20 the Conservancy raised $535,000, including a lead gift of $200,000 to purchase the Palmer Property just north of Nordhoff High School. On October 10, 130 people gathered under a scorching sky and renamed the site, the Ojai Meadows Preserve. On December 11 volunteers began the process of returning the land to its natural state.

Our success with the Meadows Preserve Campaign required years of preparation and the combined efforts of scores of Conservancy members. Our Board of Directors alone have contributed $70,000 towards the Campaign to Preserve Ojai's Special Places Forever.

That campaign continues. On the last day of 1999, thanks to a stunning $200,000 lead gift from Sheila and Don Cluff, the City of Ojai, the Ojai Civic Association, and the Conservancy were able to close escrow on the half-acre triangle at Ojai Avenue and El Paseo Road. Within the next twenty months, this will become a gem of a park for the entire community to enjoy.

Meanwhile, our rehabilitation of the Meadows Preserve is gaining momentum. Right now we need many volunteers with a variety of skills who are willing to join our "open space team" that will educate the public about the property, oversee it, and keep it clean. With 786 members--over 100 new ones since the capital campaign began last October--abundant talent should be available. Please help, won't you?

John Broesamle

Leave A Legacy

Give A Gift For Future Generations of the Ojai Valley

Please join the seven families and individuals who in 1999 included the Conservancy in their will or trust. Consider the lasting impact of an estate gift for the preservation of the natural and agricultural heritage of the Ojai Valley. Your contribution will be used for:

- Preserving critical open spaces like the Ojai Meadows
- Restoring important natural habitats
- Educating our youth and community to be better stewards of our open spaces

If you have already named us in your estate plans, let us thank you for your generous gift and welcome you to the Conservation Legacy Circle. For a confidential inquiry about helping to protect the future and beauty of this valley, please contact the Conservancy office at 646-7930.

Ilvento Preserve Burns

Approximately 80% of the Conservancy's Ilvento Preserve was impacted by the Ranch Fire in late December. The understory plants and shrubs were burned completely, while the Coast Live Oaks seemed to have survived with very little damage. "This is a good sign for this chaparral plant community which depends on fire for its long term health," says Carl Thelander, wildlife biologist and OVLC Board Member.

The preserve's wildflowers, ferns and other plants were documented last year by local photographer Bob Rene. "These photographs will allow us a special opportunity to record the changes to the Preserve from year to year," states Jim Engel OVLC Executive Director. "Everything looks pretty bleak at this point," adds Engel, "but come spring we should have a spectacular display of wildflowers." Walking with Fire, a tour of the Ilvento Preserve will occur on Saturday, April 15. See page 9 for Upcoming Events.

Membership Tops 780

Thanks to an amazing outpouring of community support during 1999, the Conservancy has expanded to 786 members. More than doubling the organization's list of supporters in the last year. Sue and Gary Horgan, who became the Conservancy's 699th and 700th members, stated that they joined because, "You are accomplishing what others simply dream of doing."

Clean Up Day

Several dozen volunteers, young and old, turned out for the Community Open Space Day at the Ojai Meadows Preserve on December 10. Participants had an opportunity to hear about the Conservancy's future plans for the site and lend a helping hand. A truck load of trash and other debris was pulled from the property and old growth Valley Oak Trees were cared for with the hope that their health will be improved. See page 4 for more information on how to volunteer at the Ojai Meadows Preserve and for other projects.

Broesamle Named Citizen Of The Year

In early December, John Broesamle, OVLC President was named the Citizen Of The Year by the Ojai Valley Chamber of Commerce. Broesamle, a professor at Cal State Northridge, took a year sabbatical from his teaching to focus on the OVLC's efforts. "John has been a fearless supporter of open space in the Ojai Valley during the past five years," commented Jim Engel. Congratulations John for this well deserved honor.

Conservancy Video Receives National Recognition

The OVLC's 10-minute video about open space and the Conservancy's role in protecting the Ojai Valley has received national recognition at a land trust conference in Aspen, CO during October. The video was highlighted as one of the best examples of what conservancies can do to promote their efforts. Produced and edited by Jim Jackson, a film producer and Conservancy Board Member, the video has captured many beautiful scenes from around the Valley. It is available for $5 from the Conservancy office.

Other Ways To Help Ojai's Open Spaces

- Include the Conservancy in your will or trust.
- Honor or memorialize a friend or family member with a gift in their name.
- Use your RAINS Card. We receive 3% of the total purchase.

- Tell your friends about the Conservancy and why our mission is so important to the Valley's future.

Volunteers Needed For New Preserve

The acquisition of the 32-acre Ojai Meadows Preserve brings new challenges and responsibilities. The Conservancy's commitment to public access for this site will help to enrich the lives of Valley residents by providing walking trails, educational opportunities, and a place to relax and reflect. As a result, trails will need to be maintained, trees planted and cared for, questions answered for visitors, and other tasks to keep the Preserve looking its best. We need your help, so if you are looking for an opportunity to lend a helping hand, whether it be weekly or monthly, please contact us at 646-7930.

Preserving Ojai's Special Places Forever

The Ojai Meadows Campaign

Civic Association Makes Strategic Gift

During the late days of November, OVLC received a much needed boost to its open space efforts through a $130,000 gift from the Ojai Civic Association. The Association made the gift in the spirit of its founder, Edward Libbey, who was greatly concerned with the quality of life in the Ojai Valley during the early part of the 20th century. The gift was split evenly between the Ojai Meadows Campaign and the triangle property acquisition at El Paseo Road and Ojai Avenue.

Ojai Businesses Provide Super Support For Ojai Meadows

Ojai businesses have a long history of generous support for local nonprofit organizations and their contributions for the Ojai Meadows Campaign was no exception. Bronk-Vreeland Ford donated $100 for each vehicle sold to a Valley resident during November and December. The result of this outstanding offer was a $6,100 check to the Conservancy. "We're doing this for people who have an interest in the Ojai Valley," said Dick Bronk, who developed the donation program.

Other business contributors included the Rains Department Store who donated $1,500 towards the Campaign through the Evening for Open Space and Conservancy Day events. Rains regularly donates a percentage of each sale for Conservancy members who use their Rains Card.

Campaign Was Successful In Many Ways

In addition to the obvious success of acquiring the Ojai Meadows Preserve, our supporters can also feel good about several other milestones from this community effort:

- Campaign expenses were kept close to 7% (typical campaigns average 10-20%).
- Conservancy Board Members contributed over $70,000 to the campaign to help cover campaign expenses. This means donations from the community were applied directly to the cost of acquiring and preserving the property.
- The Conservancy added over 100 new members between October and the end of the year, making us over 786 'friends' strong.

See How You Can Continue To Help The Ojai Meadows Preserve. Volunteer Opportunities Are On Page 4.

Legacy Circle To Meet Again In Late February

OVLC will again be hosting a Conservation Legacy Circle event to recognize supporters who have made significant contributions through annual donations, bequests, and volunteerism. Over 50 people attended last year's event at Lois Rice's beautiful home and heard about several proposed projects which are now a reality, including the acquisition of the Ojai Meadows and downtown triangle properties, and the launch of the Wild About Ojai and Living with Agriculture Education Programs. Details and dates are still being determined for this year's event. Invitations will be sent out in early February.

Education On The Wildside

Wild About Ojai

After taking a short winter break, Wild About Ojai, the exciting education program for families, will start again on the first Saturday of April and continue once a month until the end of the year. Each month participants will have a hands-on opportunity to learn more about the wildlife, plants and landscapes that share our local environment.

The program is $8 per individual and $12 per family. Space is limited and advanced registration is required.

Walk With Fire

This spring wildflower walk will be our first opportunity to see what changes the Ranch Fire brought to the Ilvento Preserve. This is a rare opportunity to see what should be a spectacular wildflower display. Wear boots and bring water and a snack. The Environmental Learning Series Program is free but you must register in advance. Come join us on Saturday, April 15 at 9am for this great adventure.

Call 646-7930 to register or for more information about OVLC's education program.
